

The figure shows a 10x10 grid with a color scale from dark blue (low intensity) to red (high intensity). The high-intensity region is located in the top-left corner, with a peak value of approximately 0.0015 in the top-left cell. The intensity decreases as the distance from the top-left corner increases, following a diagonal pattern.

