

This figure displays a 10x10 grid of small images, each representing a handwritten digit from the MNIST dataset. The digits are rendered in various colors, including dark blue, light blue, green, yellow, orange, and red, indicating different intensity levels or classes. The digits are arranged in a grid, with some digits appearing more prominently than others.

